
SUMMARY OF MAIN ARTICLES IN ENGLISH

HUMAN SECURITY DURING THE COVID-19 PANDEMIC: SOME THEORETICAL AND PRACTICAL ISSUES

Dao Thi Minh Huong⁽¹⁾

In March 2020, the World Health Organization declared the outbreak of coronavirus disease (COVID-19) a pandemic. The virus has hit individuals and countries on a global scale. It is no doubt that the influences of COVID-19 on human security is considerable. This article examines the impact of the pandemic caused by COVID-19 from the perspective of human security through analyzing human security framework, the debates on human security and the applicability of the human security framework in policy. The approach of the article based on the assumption that the state is not the sole provider of security solutions and is not the main subject of security policies. In the practical discussion, the article analyzes the common threats of COVID-19 to human security around the world and indicates the effects of COVID-19 on human security as well as reasonable response strategies.

HUMAN DEVELOPMENT IN VIETNAM FOR THE PERIOD 2016 - 2020: A CONSIDERATION FROM HUMAN DEVELOPMENT INDEX ANALYSIS

Nguyen Dinh Tuan⁽²⁾

In the period 2016 - 2020, Vietnam has many achievements in human development and officially entered the group of countries with high HDI in 2019. This result once again confirms the development perspective of Vietnam is for people and people are always placed at the center of the development process. Although encouraging results have been achieved, Vietnam's HDI is in the middle group in comparison with other countries in the region. Besides, there is significant differences in HDI in general and the component indexes in particular among provinces. Based on the use of data from the report on Human Development Index of Vietnam, the global human development report of the United Nations Development Program (UNDP) and other statistics and secondary data, the article analyzes achievements and challenges posed to the human development of Vietnam in the period 2016-2020 through HDI analysis.

⁽¹⁾ Institute of Human Studies, Vietnam Academy of Social Sciences.

⁽²⁾ Institute of Human Studies, Vietnam Academy of Social Sciences.

OVERCOMING THE IMPACT OF THE COVID-19 PANDEMIC
ON LABOR AND EMPLOYMENT
IN THE CENTRAL HIGHLAND PROVINCES:
SOME RESULTS AND LESSONS LEARNED

Nguyen Duy Thuy⁽³⁾

In 2020, the COVID-19 pandemic began to break out in Vietnam, which has negatively impacted all aspects of people's lives. Labor and employment are the field that suffers the earliest and strongest negative impacts of the pandemic. On the basis of the situation of each epidemic wave and the reality in each locality, the Government and local authorities at all levels have issued, administered and implemented policies to support people, carried out many epidemic prevention and control measures associated with production recovery. Based on evaluating the effectiveness of the implementation of policies to respond to the COVID-19 pandemic in the field of labor and employment of the Central Highlands provinces, this article draws some experiences in dealing with unusual situations if have in the future.

CULTURAL VALUES AND HUMAN STANDARDS
IN THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE VIETNAMESE FAMILY VALUE SYSTEM

Nguyen Duc Tien⁽⁴⁾
Nguyen Thi Thuy Giang⁽⁵⁾

Cultural values and human standards always directly affect the family value system. In each period, the expression of the effects is different, transforming from separation to connection, co-existence, preservation and development. In the face of the impacts of international integration, the development of the industrial revolution 4.0 and the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic, the transformation of the value system from taking stability as the goal to taking development as the destination will be in line with the development trend of the country. Up to now, in the light of the Resolution of the 13th Party Congress, this has been confirmed more clearly.

⁽³⁾ Institute of Social Sciences in the Central Highlands.

^{(4), (5)} Air Force - Air Defense Academy.